How your Flier Bot works

Once a month, a brand-new flier goes out on your Facebook Page and Instagram. Here's the little trip it takes:

1

JGV2 designs your flier

Tabitha's AI design helper (JGV2, a ChatGPT assistant) creates the month's flier starring cartoon you, plus a ready-to-post caption.

2

It waits in your preview spot

The flier is saved to a Google Drive folder and listed in a simple Google Sheet marked Pending.

3

You give the thumbs up

You look it over and change Pending to Approved, or ask for tweaks. Nothing posts without your OK.

4

Make posts it for you

On your chosen posting day, Make shares it to your Facebook Page and Instagram, then marks it Posted.

Can I Show Off Your Flier Bot?

Your Flier Bot is my very first showcase project! With your OK, I'd like to share how I built it on my GitHub, an online portfolio where people in tech show their work, so future clients and employers can see what I can do. You decide what's shared.

What I'd like to share

- How the bot works, step by step
- Screenshots of the Make setup
- This guide and your sample fliers
- Results, like how many fliers went out

What always stays private

- Your passwords and logins, never shared
- Your Make, Google, Facebook and Instagram account details
- Your clients' info, messages and bookings
- Anything you ask me to leave out

You choose what's okay · check everything you're happy with

- ☐ Yes! You can feature my Flier Bot project on your GitHub.
- ☐ You can use my name and business name.

If not checked, I'll call you "a local hair stylist."

- ☐ You can show my fliers and cartoon me.
- ☐ You can show my real phone, email and social handles.

If not checked, they'll be blurred or swapped for fake ones.

- ☐ You can share results (likes, shares, new bookings).
- ☐ Please send me a preview before anything goes public.

You can change your mind anytime. Just tell me, and I'll update or take down anything about your project.
